

Glenn Price Bio

Glenn Price is a behavioural change & transformation consultant and co-author of the top selling strategy execution book “Drivers” A Story of Transformational Change.

Glenn facilitates his sessions using a pragmatic mix of NLP and adult learning theory. He enjoys sharing real stories as opposed to large amount of theory and have quality interactions and conversations that challenge the clients thinking. He also likes to be constructively controversial, with a sense of humour and a level of energy that inspires clients to think differently and take action - whilst sharing tools, theory and best practice that makes their lives easier.

Prior to working with LeaderSHAPE Consulting Glenn was the SVP & Global Head of Learning & Performance for TeleTech Consulting (previously rogenSi) and led business units based in London, Dubai, Singapore, Hong-Kong, Sydney, Melbourne and New York. Glenn was responsible for accelerating growth and driving new business for TeleTech's integrated suite of customer & employee experience services.

Glenn's prior experience with the consulting & venture capital industry has resulted in a long & distinguished track record of service to an array of industries including professional & financial services, consumer business, information technology and healthcare, which regularly includes speaking at large conferences with audiences of up 2,500 people.

Glenn's specific areas of strength include consulting and developing leadership and team competence in strategy execution, change & transformation, strategic communication, product launch and behavioural change

He is a certified Extraordinary Leader programme facilitator/coach™ and Breakthrough coach™. Glenn has lectured in Behavioural Change Management within the MBA curriculum in conjunction with London Business School & The American University, Dubai was a regular columnist for CEO Magazine & the author of Drivers – A Story of Transformational Change. His formal academic work includes studies in International Marketing & Law.

Clients include industry leaders such as Barclays, UBS, Vodafone, JPMorgan, HSBC, GlaxoSmithKline, Jotun, Schering-Plough, Johnson & Johnson, Kraft, Nestle, Cadbury and Deloitte.

